Our Feathered Gains.

"Ooh, Mike, would ye luk! Here's a pie indade!" said a workman engaged in shoveling away the snow about a big building in course of erection. His shovel had laid low an enormous snowdrift where the wind had whirled it up to about a corner, and in the bottom of it were the frozen bodies of 20 or 30 English sparrows. It was a pie indeed, and there were many such baked last winter. Millions of the fierce little birds perished from the stress of winter, and it will take years of breeding to bring back the cheerful army, the feathered gamins of our streets and the brightest little soldiers among us, for, when all's said and done, one cannot help liking the sparrow for his courage and his infinite cheerfulness under adverse circumstances. He is a constant example to the blue and downhearted.—New York Herald.

Poor Paderewski.

Paderewski's manager has come to the pianist's assistance to keep the girls away. The persistence with which they insist upon wlaying the pianist in town and out of town, in the wings on his way from the stage to his dressing room, has led to the mission from the programme of the Paderewski recitals a list of the pianist's future engagements, with the times and places of his appearances. This has been done at the request of Paderewski, who was forced into some measure of protection from the mob of women who have pestered and followed him everywhere. Poor Paderewski!—Boston Herald.

The Prisoner Bought Scold.

Of all the ludicrous things which are told of the condition of the discipline in the Massachusetts state prison, that story of the convict Booth, who, having appointed himself chairman of a committee to select a testimonial to the head-warden, coolly picked out the quarters and hung up a sign, "No Admittance," which was duly respected by the prison guards, is the most amazing. If we don't look out, this extraordinary Charlestown baskie will soon be figuring in comic opera.—Boston Journal.

Some land in Cornhill, London, has recently been sold at the rate of £2,000,000 per acre. The land included five shops, covering altogether 2,600 feet, superficial, and it was sold for £118,000, or at the rate of about £30 per foot. Two more shops in the same street, having an area of about 2,600 feet, were bought in for £180,000.—London Tit-Bits.

HALE METHOD OF PAINLESS FILLING.

NEW DEPARTURE IN DENTISTRY!

DR. PORTER HAS RETURNED for the purpose of advertising the

"Hale Method of Painless Filling."

Absolutely painless without Chloroform, Gas, Ether or Cocaine.

OFFICE IN STEELE BUILDING, COMMERCIAL ROW, RENO.

Here are a Few Testimonials from Citizens Who have Already Tried the Method:

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—It affords me pleasure to say that the Hale method of painless filling opens a new era in the dental world. After having several very sensitive cavities filled by you with gold and amalgam with gratifying results, I am of the opinion that the method is far beyond competition. PATRICK HENRY.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—In answer to your request for my candid opinion as to the Hale method of painless filling, I beg to state that I went to one of Dr. Leek's finest operators in San Francisco, and he filled several teeth for me with more or less pain; but when he came to the one you have just filled, it was simply impossible for me to endure the torture, consequently I asked him to stop, which he did. I thought I would be obliged to have the tooth extracted. I wish to state that in five minutes after you commenced to operate there was positively no pain; it felt just as if you were cutting a piece of wood. I am so highly pleased with the manner in which you filled the tooth that I feel it but just to express my appreciation of the method. It is all you claim for it. CHARLES HOPE.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—I have had teeth extracted before by so-called painless methods, but you are the only operator who has extracted teeth for me without pain. Your method of extracting surpasses my most sanguine expectations. MRS. H. PRENTISS.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—It gives me great pleasure to state that I am thoroughly convinced of the excellence of your method. I expected to suffer dreadfully having the cavity filled, as it was the worst one I had to have done. In about five minutes after you began to work on it I was satisfied that it would not hurt, which it did not during the entire operation. The tooth you extracted is one I have been dreading for eight years, and after consulting dentists in Sacramento, who advised me not to have it removed, as the ordeal might prove injurious to my health and also disfigure my face. You extracted the tooth without a particle of pain, and I will have no further dread of the dental chair, providing I can obtain the Hale Method. MARY E. FLECKENSTEIN.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—After using Hale's Painless Method as administered by you in the extraction of teeth, I can bear testimony that the results are satisfactory, and that teeth can be extracted painless by said method. Respectfully yours, HENRY J. NEYLAND.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—I believe that the Hale Painless Method of filling is destined to lead the world in its special field of usefulness. I am particularly impressed with it, owing to the fact that one does not lose consciousness while having teeth filled, and at the same time does not suffer a particle of pain. You are at liberty to refer any one who contemplates having sensitive teeth filled to me. JOHN SHERITT.

COMPLAINTS OF RAIN.

FLOODS AT ST. LOUIS.

The Ohio River Rising Very Rapidly.

THE GREAT FAIR OPENED.

The Machinery Started by President Cleveland.

High Water in St. Louis.

St. Louis, May 1.—The river at 6 o'clock this evening showed a rise of over a foot since last night and is still rising. Up to 6 o'clock this evening the water caused the abandonment of the greater portion of east Carondelet. The telegraph office at St. Louis connecting the railway was wrecked this morning and several small buildings were washed away. A body was washed ashore near the site of the wrecked telegraph office. Many persons who have been living in the second story of their homes were forced to move out altogether to-day and several had narrow escapes, barely escaping before the residences collapsed or floated away.

At Belleville, several manufacturing establishments, were forced to shut down, the boiler rooms being inundated. On this side of the river north St. Louis is so far the worst sufferer. The district known as "Oklahoma" is now a vast lake with here and there a hastily vacated shanty protruding a few feet above the water's surface.

Trainmen from the east to-night say that the water practically covers all Brooklyn and a number of people are moving out of their houses. Venice will soon rival the city of which it is a namesake.

The east St. Louis dock warehouse gave way about noon and fully one-fourth of the vast building, with its heavy contents, fell in a heap, the roof sinking and settling upon the wreck. Thousands of barrels of flour, sacks of grain, boxed canned goods, bundles, shingles and a miscellaneous lot of other goods were precipitated through the ground floor into the water. One laborer, Cleo Pate, a colored man, was crushed to death under the debris. Two other laborers were injured.

The loss will be quite heavy but it is impossible to ascertain the extent of the amount.

Water to Spare.

Special to the Journal.

Paris, Texas, May 1.—A cloudburst swept the slope of the mountains yesterday and carried away thirty-five miles of Frisco road track. The north-bound passenger train which left Saturday was unable to get beyond Mount Auburn and returned. The south-bound passenger train stopped at Greenbush. The Arkansas river is eight miles wide and much damage was done along the course. Five farm houses a few miles this side of Fort Smith were demolished by a whirlwind.

VAN BUREN, Ark., May 1.—Two water spouts struck northern Crawford county yesterday and washed out the bridges and railroad tracks of the Santa Fe. All reports are not in and it is feared the damage done will be immense and many lives lost.

ALTON, Ill., May 1.—In the past forty-eight hours the river has risen nearly three feet and is still booming. South and east of here farms are nothing but watery wastes. Several bridges are down at Wood river, and the work of restoring has commenced. The Wabash branch was abandoned this afternoon. The big pump at the water works had to be abandoned, and altogether the outlook is gloomy.

THE SITUATION IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Five of the seven congressmen from South Carolina were elected on a free coinage, or anti-Cleveland platform, though they are classified as Democrats by the clerk of the house of representatives. The Farmers' Alliance or Peoples' party is in the ascendancy in that State and though four of force bills caused them to support the Cleveland electoral ticket, the people in a majority of the congressional districts elected Farmers' Alliance representatives to congress.

Now, according to the Clinton Caucasian, an old and influential newspaper, the straight-out demand of the president that the Alliance congressmen, though classified as Democrats, shall not be recognized as such in the distribution of Federal patronage. They charge that they are not Democrats and that raises the question what is meant by a "Democrat."

The Caucasian says if it means a man who has no convictions of his own, but waits for the bosses and party manipulators to tell him what to believe and then obediently avows that those are his convictions, a man who favors free coinage until a goldbug candidate is nominated, and then yells for the party and votes the ticket right or wrong, then no true Alliance man or Populist can be a Democrat any more than he can be a Republican.

The farmers of Minnesota and the Dakotas are discouraged over the crop outlook. Not an acre of grain is sown in the Dakotas nor in Minnesota north of St. Cloud. Eighteen inches of snow fell in twenty-four hours this week followed by a rain and thousands of acres of farming lands have been converted into lakes.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it.

Occasional applications since have kept my hair thick and of a natural color."—H. E. Basham, McKinney, Texas.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Restores hair after fever.
"Over a year ago I had a severe fever, and when I recovered, my hair began to fall out, and what little remained turned gray. I tried various remedies, but without success, till at last I began to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now my hair is growing rapidly and is restored to its original color."—Mrs. A. Collins, Dighton, Mass.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

" My hair was rapidly turning gray and falling out; one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor has remedied the trouble, and my hair is now its original color and fullness."—B. Onkrup, Cleveland, O. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

The plaintiff claim uninterrupted adverse possession thereof, under a claim of right for more than seven years, and the title thereto in fee, and that defendant claims an estate or interest therein adverse to the plaintiff; and this action is brought to annul such adverse claim and to quiet plaintiff's title to said lands and premises, and to perpetually enjoin defendant from ever again asserting any claim to said premises adverse to the plaintiff, and for costs.

All of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the clerk of said court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, at Reno, this 28th day of April, A. D. 1893.

STEWART AT OGDEN.

His Speech at the Transmississippi Congress.

The following synopsis of Senator Stewart's speech at the transmississippi congress is from the Ogdon Standard: Ladies, gentlemen and fellow-citizens:— I will not play the demagogue with you but will tell you the truth, which neither of the political parties have dared to do. Their genius was exhausted at Minneapolis and Chicago to find words to conceal the truth. So much for demagoguery. [Applause.]

THE NATURE OF MONEY.

I will first, with you, consider the nature of money. We have found no people on earth that did not have some kind of money and language. No civilization can commerce without some kind of language. No man can civilize himself who goes alone to provide himself with the necessities of life. Language and money are of no use in isolation, absolutely necessary in community. You must have a medium of exchange. It is a necessity of civilization. The baser metals become without value owing to their quality. Limitation of quantity and desire to have forms the causes of value. I have seen values by these causes change twenty times in a day. By what instrumentality is value of money to be determined? By the law of supply and demand. The demand for money is always the maximum. All things are seeking exchange for money. Money has a fixed demand. But the demand for property is not universal. Therefore such articles fluctuate in value, while the demand for money is permanent. The money supply and demand are on one side and the property supply and demand is on the other, thus determining values. Is gold performing this function? Gold has gone up 50 per cent because its volume has lowered.

In early days the value of money was regulated by the demand of gold and silver. The speaker showed by the experiences of ancient civilization that when they had money they were prosperous. When their mines gave out they went into barbarism, and briefly touched upon each nation that furnished an example of the assertion. Especially did he dwell on the history of the Romans in this respect, making striking illustrations of the fact that with money there was power, but that when limiting the coinage and abandoning the standards of money empires fell.

In the beginning of the fifteenth century gold and silver were discovered in South America. Spain took it. Thirty years after money poured into Europe. Intellectuals grew. A Luther arose. He would visit Rome and the result is known.

THE EFFECT OF MONEY.

The money of Spain diffused through Europe and the result was that great uprising throwing off the yoke of tyranny. For three hundred years civilization grew and grew. The landholders of England in the early part of the eighteenth century had grown from 80,000 to 100,000. The yeomanry of England was established and it was that that made us free men. It was the men who were made free by the diffusion of the gold and silver brought from the new world.

When the Napoleonic wars arose paper money was issued in excess. The resumption of specie was the rehabilitation of the aristocracy. Contraction of money followed the act of resumption of 1816 and the land holders in England were again reduced to 80,000. Uprisings occurred, soldiers were called out but it was thought best to turn out a little money and establish factories and see what that would do and this diverted the crisis.

Money that need not be redeemed can only be made of the precious metals. It is true that 96 per cent of the circulation is paper and notes but they are all promises to pay in metal. In 1948 there was less gold and silver than in 1800 and depressions occurred.

From 1810 to 1850 pieces of property fell 50 per cent and wages went down with them. I remember that period. I know the price of labor then. I was glad to get $3 a month and everything accordingly. Prices were low, times were hard and money was scarce. But we were better off than Europe. Then came the marvelous discovery of gold here and in Australia, something that had not been found in 2,000 years. But the boom came. What effect did it have? From 1810 to 1840 the production of precious metals was $40,000,000 annually. In one single year after the discovery of gold $200,000,000 was added. The world advanced more in the following twenty-three years than in any previous centuries. All agricultural machinery was invented then. The energies of man were stimulated physically and morally. It was a wonderful awakening of man.

Now, after thirty-three years of unparalleled prosperity wages rose, doubled and even quadrupled. Prosperity rose. But what has since occurred? Conditions have changed. The pioneers of the west had discovered deposits of gold and silver that promised continued prosperity to the people. The great Comstock was discovered and then it became established that silver should be the mainstay of the people.

DEMOCRATIZATION OF NEW THING.

Before that time, the bankers of Europe attempted to juggle the currency of the world. The demonetization of silver is no new thing. Years ago when the capitalists were afraid gold would flood the country, De Quincy took an extra dose of opium and whisky and wrote a savage brochure, lamenting the great influx of gold from Australia.

But the English capitalists after an examination of the gold fields concluded that the supply of gold would soon be exhausted and did not demonetize gold. Other countries joined in the scheme to demonetize gold because they thought gold the most plentiful metal. In 1855 France wanted to unify the currency of Europe as well as weights and measures, and the result was the formation of the Latin union and making the franc the unit of value. In 1867 came another council to unify weights and measures. No intimation was given that the currency question was to be touched. At that time Senator Sherman went to England and wrote a letter to Mr. Ruggles, the American representation at the council, recommending a gold standard of money. The council followed this advice and gold became the standard of money in the Latin Union. In 1868 Senator Sherman introduced a bill in congress to make a single standard. A small minority report was filed by a senator who saw the nefarious scheme which killed the bill, Sherman not daring to call up his bill, because he knew the effect of it would be to kill silver, a result which he desired but which could not be secured openly.

When the damage was done. In 1870 Sherman offered a bill to void the mint law. There was where the damage was done, and no one suspected it. The bill was an innocent looking one, but it had in it the serpent which stung silver to death. No discussion was had on the chief point. It passed in January, 1873. The 16th amendment to the bill, which was the one demonetizing silver, was for some unexplained reason skipped by the reading clerk and that amendment was never voted upon and never adopted in reality. That is the way silver was demonetized. It was done on the outside, by a trick. It was a fraud perpetrated upon the American people and Mr. Sherman has never explained why he stooped to the fraud.

The fraud was not known until 1875, when the Latin union stopped silver coinage and silver dropped. Then came the investigation which revealed these facts. Then it was found that the money supply of the country was cut down one half with all its attendant evils. Gold immediately appreciated 50 per cent, and the prices of products gradually decreased to the same extent, and not only did the price of products decrease but the price of labor also. With the gold standard, values are constantly changing, making one of the greatest evils of a country, an unstable currency. When gold and silver were both standard, values were firm and the changes from year to year were very slight. But the gold bugs of the east dodge this condition of affairs and instead of trying to meet it with argument, come back with a cry that the silver barons are robbing the people. They (the gold bugs) have systematically robbed the pioneers and hardy miners of the west who have created their wealth and to cover up their guilt cry out that the silver barons are attempting to rob the Rothschilds of the world. The Rothschilds will take care of themselves. Even in England the gold standard has depreciated the value of wages fully 50 per cent. In the last twenty years and the value of farm land has also fallen the same amount. The effect was not long in reaching this country as it is now felt in ruinous intensity in the agricultural districts of the west, where the farmer sells his produce for 50 cts. on the dollar and pays 100 cents on the dollar on his mortgage held by a gold bug in the east, who has held to put him in bondage. In manufacturing regions the same reduction has come in wages and we see the employers calling out to the government for protection from the men whose wages are reduced to meet the reduction in prices which has followed the demand of the Rothschilds for the demonetization of silver.

NOT ENOUGH MONEY. The trouble is there is not enough money to do business on—not enough money to go around and consequently the failures come. Look at the failures in the east, the recent closing of the steel works at Pittsburgh, and the failures yesterday in Sioux City, All these come of the scarcity of money, the contraction of the currency, which also so greatly depreciated material values.

There are only two precious metals which are in general use as money metals or which can be used as money, silver and gold. Take away the silver money from the currency and there is not enough gold to supply the demand of trade. There is not enough gold in the world to perform the office of money and not enough gold mined to do so. In 1860 81 per cent of the gold mined was coined into money, while now only 28 per cent is coined, the balance being used as a commodity. Hence it can be seen that by the demonetization of silver they have taken from us the greater part of our currency, with no source of supply from which to draw sufficient to meet our demands. And now these goldbugs add insult to injury by proposing to repeal the Sherman act of 1890, which provides for the purchase by the treasury of 4,500,000 ounces of silver per month to be coined as the necessities of trade require. This they call honesty, good government and a sound financial policy. That is what we have to fight.

There is only one standard of money values and that is coin—either gold or silver. According to the antiquarian researches of Max Mueller the ratio of gold and silver as money up to 1873 had only varied three points in 8,000 years, but since 1873 gold has taken an unnatural appreciation while silver has been classed as a simple commodity such as wheat or coal, to be bought by the ounce by money of a gold standard. The government cannot regulate or make values, but it can say how much metal shall be a representative of certain value. And in the ratio of value established between gold and silver as coin metals the mark was fixed where the ratio had been for 8,000 years. During the years previous to 1873 the ratio of production of silver and gold was about 44 to 1. Since 1873 the production of silver has fallen off until it is about equal to that of gold, in other words a great industry has been destroyed.

The senator was interrupted two or three times by questions, but the senator answered them quickly, and proceeded with the thread of his argument. A HYPOCRITICAL WHINE. The senator referred to the cry about the 65-cent silver dollar, and said that the cry is a fraud. There are only about 4,500,000 ounces of silver bullion in this country, and that, of course, the holders of this bullion would reap some small benefit. But there are in circulation now 4,500,000 of silver dollars, and if these were to be recoined what would be the result? It would contract the currency 1,520,000 of dollars which would either have to be lost sustained by the holders or be made up by the government by taxation.

But, say the goldbugs, it will help the miners, and they cry against the injustice of helping the miner. But why is it unjust? He was the man who pioneered the way into and across these trackless wilds and toiled and labored through hardship and privation to obtain that which had been money for more than 3,000 years. At the time when the miner opened these mines, and delved for the precious mineral, silver was of a certain settled value as money and since then he has been sacrificed to the avarice of the Rothschilds, his investments destroyed and depreciated. He has ceased to be regarded as a benefactor of the people. The demonetization of silver was a breach of faith with man who had made these investments of money and time and labor and a crime against him.

MINERS SAVE THE COUNTRY.

"I remember," said Senator Stewart, "what Abraham Lincoln said to me when I was introduced to him. He reached out to me and said: 'So you are from the mining country. I have regard for these miners for they have saved the country, because they furnished the gold and silver which gave us a credit without which we could not have carried on the war and the Union would have been lost.' Now these goldbugs sneer at us, and because we want justice and equity they accuse us of robbing the people. What we want is that the great wrong of '73 be righted and that the Nation be restored to its former prosperity."

The senator then discussed from a silver standpoint the policy of the secretary of the treasury, as announced, that of issuing bonds, when the vaults of the treasury are full of gold and silver, for the purpose of redeeming greenbacks. He referred to the bonds issued by eastern countries, through which they have gone into slavery to the Rothschilds. The gold kings own the banks and merchants and newspapers, and through them congress. They stand in their palaces and demand their pound of flesh. Let us destroy these gold kings and strike for liberty.

The senator made a forcible speech, argumentative, but at the same time, eloquent, and was frequently interrupted by applause. Numbers of times the applause was deafening and continued for several moments. At the close of the applause, which fairly shook the building, was followed by three rousing cheers for the "champion defender of silver."

During his address Colonel Irish said that there had been coined in eighty-four years 8,000,000 silver dollars. Sen-
